Springfield Musical Institute.

This Society has been in existence about two years. It numbers some forty members, and embraces nearly all the vocal talent in our midst. It gave two Concerts in the spring of 1857, consisting of Choruses, Sacred and Miscellaneous, Solos, Duets and Trios. The proceeds of the concerts were devoted to the paying of the Society's expenses, and the balance was given to the poor. During the first season, its officers were the following :

Edward Ingersoll, Esq., President. J. G. Shaw, Director. Henry A. Chapin, Secretary and Treasurer. Albert Allin, Pianist.

The second season has been a very prosperous one. The valuable services of Mr. E. J. Fitzhugh were secured as Director, and a marked improvement in every performance has been the result. The whole Chorus have sung in two miscellaneous concerts of the Philharmonic Society, and The Sacred Oratorio of the Messiah, has been performed twice, in a manner reflecting great credit on the Society.

It is an institution of which we are proud, and we are gratified to learn that its affairs are in a most satisfactory state. It holds monthly meetings during the summer, and weekly ones in the fall and winter.

Present officers—Edward Ingersoll, President. Henry A. Chapin, Secretary and Treasurer. E. J. Fitzhugh, Director.

Springfield Philharmonic Society.

This is a Society of Amateur Musicians, organized in 1857, has upward of twenty active members. It rehearses at Adey's Music Saloon. Untiring industry and perseverance has enabled it to give four Concerts during the season, three in Springfield, and one in Northampton; besides playing the accompaniment to the Oratorio given by the Musical Institute. It has been ably directed by E. J. Fitzhugh, and through it Springfield has first listened to the sublime productions of Bethoven, Hayden, Mozart and others. Three grand Symphonies have been performed in numerous overtures; not a single piece of trash or music of inferiority has been produced. It has done great things towards elevating musical taste. It has a respectable fund, and is more complete in its organization than that of the sister society.

Its officers are as follows: A. S. Davis, President. M. Dunbar, Vice President. John Fitzhugh, Leader. E. J. Fitzhugh, Director. A. A. Allen, Treasurer. A. A. Adey, Secretary.

A very large number of parts of Rifle Muskets were completed at the end of the last fiscal year, 1856—7, which have since been assembled into finished arms. It is computed that about 12,000 of the new Rifle Muskets will be completed and ready for issue by the close of June, 1858.

The machinery and tools of the establishment have been largely increased and perfected.

The new Water Shop has been nearly completed—nearly the whole of it being occupied by the Armorers. The dam at the Upper Water Shop has been rebuilt and increased in height ten feet, affording one of the most eligible water powers in the country. The new Shops and their whole arrangement, when completed, will have but few rivals in the country for beauty, convenience and adaptation to the uses for which they are designed.

The entire establishment is in most successful operation, and reflects great credit upon its managers.

The Union Telegraph Co.

OFFICES IN SPRINGFIELD,

Main Street, opposite Exchange Hotel,

And in the Massasoit House.

The main lines of this Company consist of five wires between New York and Boston, on two distinct routes—one via Stamford, New Haven, Hartford, Springfield and Worcester, following the line of the railroad; the other via Bridgeport, Norwich, N. London, and Providence, by the turnpike. Its branches extend from Boston to Lowell and Nashua; from Providence to Warren and Bristol, R. I.; from Worcester to Milbury and Milford; from Boston to Pawtucket, Taunton, Fall River, New Bedford and Newport. Its connections at New York are with the Albany and Buffalo Morse Line, (the only direct line to the West,) with the Southern and Western lines; and at Boston, with the principal line running to the Canadas,

The lines of the Union Telegraph Company, although so numerous, and covering such a wide and extended territory, are nevertheless kept at all times in such perfect condition as to insure to the public the object for which they were established, viz. "reliability." It is the determination of the managers of these lines, to give the public such facilities as can be offered by no other line, for the prompt transmission of all business intrusted to its charge, inasmuch as the means are within their control

 Tariff to all points upon the main lines, 25 cents for first ten words, and 3 cents for each additional. To all places beyond this Company's line, the tariff is invariably as low as by any other other route. For further information apply at the offices.

— OUR —

Photographs and Ambrotypes,

We can truly say,

ARE THE BEST IN THE CITY.

We would shrink from praising our own work, but having been complimented so much by friends and strangers, we make bold to assert it ourselves. We would still assure the public that shall be spared on our part, to make this place worthy their confidence.

Daguerreotypes Copied and Enlarged to any size, and colored by an experienced artist.

Mr. R. who will be connected with a Gallery in one of our largest cities, will have the best advantage to secure the latest improvements.

FRAMES AND CASES,

Of every style, always on hand.

O. C. BOLTON, Artist.
